

THE DOTHAN EAGLE

—DAILY EDITION—

VOLUME 1.

DOTHAN, ALABAMA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 21ST, 1909.

NUMBER 176

To Hon. Mayor and City Council,
Dothan, Alabama.

Gentlemen:

Being appointed to Audit the books, accounts and records of Mr. R. W. Lisenby, City Clerk, I hand you herewith my report:

With the valuable assistance of Mr. Lisenby, and also Mr. Watson, I have carefully and thoroughly checked every transaction from its origin through all the postings. I find that the books and accounts have been well kept with the exception of a few errors and oversight, which is subject to occur to the best of bookkeepers once in a while. A blotter system of handling the Ad Valorem taxes is very much needed.

Yours very truly,
J. K. HARRIS,
Auditor.

Every school boy has read the story of Rip Van Winkle, the man who slept twenty years. After thinking of it, this is no very unusual occurrence; for we have thousands of the same kind of men today. Dothan is a wide awake town and has fewer Rip Van Winkles than the average town; but there are some here. At a meeting of a committee appointed by the leading citizens of the town, it was unanimously decided that all Rip Van Winkles living in Dothan must be awakened and made to realize the merits and possibilities of our town. There is a movement on foot in our town now that is of vital importance to every white person living here, both old and young. There will be a large force of detectives set to work in the very near future to hunt up all these sleepers, and show them something they do not know. This question concerns the welfare of every white person in Dothan. Watch for the detectives, for they are coming.

"TIME was when I did not Consider myself fashionably attired unless my the high priced, exclusive merchant tailor," said a prominent Dothanite to the writer, recently "One day he concluded to give us a chance to 'make good' our claims," "and 'make good' our claims," "and the result is that he has been wearing our clothes ever since."

Prejudice, deep-seated is hard to shake off.

The manufactures that we buy our Clothing from are producing the finest clothes manufactured in America. That's an admitted fact. YOU, who still lean the merchant-tailor way, sooner or later must do as Hundreds upon Hundreds, of your fellows have done, namely, give our clothing "the fighting chance," which is all we ask or require to "make good."

All the squirrels are never found up one tree, unless it is a family tree.

That Billie Possum business went off like a heavy frost ahead of the rising sun.

The family horse, when treated like a member of the family, ceases to be a family horse.

The trouble is with most of us, we can't hamstring the ideas and get hold of them, as they fit by.

The Brownsville soldiers will never down, it would seem, till they have a short, stout marble slab placed endwise over their heads.

That fashion plate man is still sitting on the rock, way out in the woods, or waving his hat at the winner as he comes, or firing the pistol as a signal for the race to start. Hardly any of them work.

We corn raisers, and cornbread eaters of Alabama can show the wheat market that we are not obliged to buy wheat. Could show 'em if we wanted to, mind you, for we make other things that will keep one in fair order till the berries are ripe.

People who haunt boarding houses say that a concoction called hash, which may be anything, or a dozen things, can be warmed over, and changed about from meal to meal, till one must eat it to get it off the table. When one goes about writing something for a lot of choice readers, he thinks of how he will serve the hash; how it can best be changed so the readers will devour it, without feeling like devouring the writer.

TALKING WITH MARS.

Professor William Henry Pickering is not known much this far South of Boston. Boston, or Harvard College, is where the professor lives and teaches astronomy.

The professor was not being quoted as much as Dr. Eliot, or Dr. Wiley, or Dr. Osler, or Dr. Mary Walker, or Dr. Washington. This must have goaded him into making the statement the other day, that it would soon be possible to talk to the people in Mars. That is, if it were possible to extract about $10,000,000 from some source to arrange the talking machine the professor wants. His idea would be to make a mirror something to over about a quarter of a mile of space, and wait till the proper season of the year, when Mars is five million miles closer to earth, and then let the reflection of the sun flash dots and dashes to the Maritans. With this they might see the signal, but they many not know Mars, in which case the professor thinks a code would soon be worked out whereby we might hold conversation every sunshiny day with Mars.

When a man comes to believe a certain thing will happen at a certain time, it is likely to occur. That is, it looks that way at times. The other day a strong, healthy mail carrier in Georgia got it in his head that he wouldn't live till the next Sunday. He said as much to his wife, and told the doctor that something would surely happen, but the physician told him there was nothing the matter, though he gave him a little bottle of medicine to take. He went ahead and became unconscious and died before the following Sunday.

The above amounts have been promptly paid.

Auditor.

"A CONSENSUS"

Does our present idea of social reformation give that relief which its votaries claim? Are we tending toward stronger and firmer convictions, in regard to taste and feeling, which sustain the physical and promote the mental? Or are our efforts covered with form, which, if supplanted by individual conduct would place us on an equality with those who seek to change. Which is it, the newly made forms of life, which we seek to propagate to better ourselves and others; or are we engaged in an effort, to put these forms into effect, to take the chills off of our own inward selfishness? Answer. Oh! for a microscope to see ourselves six days as we are, then for one on the seventh, to see ourselves as we appear. Various kinds of emotions produce indigestion, as well as errors in Diet. For this take Holland Dyspeptic Elixir. If care and exertion has worn your physical form, so that the body appears lean and the muscles hard; if your appetite is gone, take Hollan's Spring Blood Tonic. Our labels are true to name, and represent no more than we claim for the medicines.

Mr. F. G. Epps, Dothan, N. Y.
writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation
and liver trouble." Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills are a splendid spring medicine, and it cleanses the system and clears the complexion.
N. H. McCallum

We often wonder how any person can be persuaded to take anything but Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills for constipation and liver trouble. Do not be fooled into a copying "own make" or other situation. The genuine contains harmful drugs and is a yellow package. N. H. McCallum

People just make the usually have some kidney or bladder disorder that says the "truth",
which is naturally lower in old age. Foley's Kidney Remedy
corrects urinary troubles, stimu-lates the kidneys and restores strength and vision. It cures uric acid troubles by strengthening the kidneys so they will strain
out the uric acid that settles in the muscles and joints, causing rheumatism. N. H. McCallum.

Our Savings department at the close of its first day's business contained 33 new accounts, a record of which we are proud; but when we consider that the ages of these depositors ranged from 10 months to 73 years, we are convinced that everyone should encourage the habit of saving 4 per cent. in this department!
